

Dismiss 3 Indictments
Against Mason Millers
Complainant's Request

Charged With Manslaughter in Connection With the Deaths of Several Persons on the Senger-ties Road.

CASES GO OVER TERM

Richard Propstner Pleads Guilty
To Petit Larceny and Gets a Suspended Sentence.

Mason Millers, charged with manslaughter in three indictments in connection with the deaths of several persons on the Senger-ties road, when a car driven by Marion O'Donnell collided with a stationary truck owned by Millers near the old Red House site, will not be tried on those counts, according to action in county court on Wednesday afternoon. The three indictments were dismissed on the request of the complainant and agreed to by District Attorney Murray before Judge Frederick G. Traver.

The dismissed action grew out of an accident in which Miss O'Donnell, a school teacher residing at Mt. Marion, who was operating her car, crashed into the rear of the parked truck. Mrs. William Laugan, 39-year-old son, William, and Donald Kolb, eight years old, all of Mt. Marion, were killed or fatally injured. Miss O'Donnell spent several weeks in the hospital following the accident, recovering from serious injuries.

Salem Must Provide

Albert Salem, who has been before the court many times for failure to provide for his minor children, again appeared before Judge Traver and at that time Judge Traver gave Salem a last chance to provide for his two small children. Judge Traver said that there was only one question and that was the support of the minor children which would be considered and that the court intended to see that Salem provided for the children or went to jail. "I am weary of looking at you, Salem," said the Judge.

Judge Traver gave Salem until next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to arrive at some agreement with the TERA officials as to how payment was to be made toward the support of the children. Salem has been offered work by the TERA and three propositions have been made to him by that department, all involving a substantial payment from his wages to the children. Judge Traver told Salem to get together with the authorities and come into court with some plan for payment or there would be trouble. "You will have to pay for the support of the children or do time. I am tired and weary of seeing you here in court," said Judge Traver.

Salem appeared by his counsel, Dan Hoffman, who argued that Salem should have enough money for his own support and pay what he could for the support of the two small children. This the court did not believe and stated that the first obligation was the support of the children.

District Attorney Murray stated that three propositions had been offered Salem by the TERA. One he understood was for three days a week work by which he would earn $12 of which Salem was asked to turn over $9 to his family. The second was two days work bringing in $8 of which Salem must turn over $5 and the last one was one day a week at $4 of which it was asked that Salem turn over $3.

All propositions had been refused. Mr. Murray said that Salem had a wife and two children and that he had been considerable trouble with him over their support. He had been in court many times and Mr. Murray said he thought it was time that the court told Salem what he must do instead of Salem dictating what he would or would not do.

Daniel Hoffman, counsel for Salem then was heard. Mr. Hoffman said that Salem had paid $3 a week when he had work and he thought it was an injustice for the TERA or anyone else to tell Salem what he should do with his money when he worked. To pay $9 of $12 earned a week he said was absurd and he thought Salem was entitled to a living first when he worked and that defendant should pay to his family what he could as was reasonable and he could afford. No man could live on $3 a week. He said Salem had offered to accept the proposition of the TERA if that organization would give him his meals and a place to sleep. Mrs. Salem he said was getting support from the city.

Mr. Murray argued that no matter what Mrs. Salem was doing the support of the two minor children rested on Salem and on him alone, and he should be made to provide for them. Judge Traver instructed Salem to get together with the TERA and make some arrangement by Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock or be prepared for trouble. He said if one of the propositions were accepted Salem must show the court that he would pay.

Sentence Suspended.

Richard Propstner of Ulster Park, 23 years old, was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny, second degree, for the stealing of a car on May 14, last. Roscoe V. Elsworth appeared for Propstner. TODAY IS LONGEST DAY
AND FIRST OF SUMMER

Today is the longest day of the year, according to astronomical data which lists June 21 as that which will enjoy the most daylight hours, and also as the first day of summer, beginning at 9:48 this evening.

In June the heat received in this locality from the sun by day far exceeds the loss through radiation at night, and it is not until July or August that the two become equal and the maximum temperature is experienced. Thus while today is the first day of the warm season of the year, the temperature will slowly increase on the average and the warmest days will be experienced later this season.

Welcome Planned For Mrs. Pinchot Here

Senator Wicks Will Extend Greeting
In Meeting of New York State—
Reaching Monday Evening at 8 O'clock

Senator Arthur H. Wicks will greet Cornelia Bryce Pinchot in behalf of New York State at the public meeting which is to be held Monday night at eight o'clock at the Holy Cross Hall, and to which the general public has been invited. The Rev. A. Appleton Packard, Jr., chairman of the Citizens' Social Justice Committee, will preside at the meeting.

Delegations of shirtworkers are arranging to meet Mrs. Pinchot at the station upon her arrival, and escort her through the town. Active support is being given to the meeting by the Central Labor Union of which John Cole is president, and Ed Arnold, vice-president.

The Citizens' Social Justice Committee which is sponsoring the meeting has called a special meeting for Monday night, prior to the mass meeting, in order that the members may meet the guest speaker and discuss plans for their future work. The committee is composed of the following: The Rev. A. A. Packard, Bernard A. Feeney, Arthur B. Ewig, Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Rabbi Herbert Bloom, Edward Arnold, Miss Ellen Van Slyke and the Rev. James W. Armstrong.

Cornelia Bryce Pinchot has been very active in the efforts of the workers of Pennsylvania to improve conditions and in organizing campaigns. Not only was she instrumental in ending the sweatshop in the shirt factories, cooperating very closely with the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, but also she has worked with the steel employees and the coal miners in their organized efforts.

Shanghai, June 21 (AP)—The roar of British airplanes over a swampy hideaway of desperate Chinese pirates was credited today for the release of six Englishmen, kidnapped when the brigands commandeered a vessel at sea last Sunday. British naval advisers said the six men were aboard the aircraft carrier Eagle and were being returned to the base at Weihaiwei.

Farley Has Hopes

Stroudsburg, Pa., June 21 (AP)—Postmaster-General Farley today said he hopes to wipe out the Postoffice Department's huge deficit during the fiscal year of 1934—a feat accomplished only seven times since 1890. Through "systematic, business-like" administration, the postal head declared at dedication of Stroudsburg's new Federal building, he plans to end his first full year in office with the books completely balanced.

Sixty Days In Jail

Charles Goodman, 21, whose address was given as Rheta, Pa., was arrested by Sergeant Lockhart in the town of Shawarunk Wednesday afternoon on complaint of Oscar Smith of that town, who charged Goodman with assault. He was arraigned before Justice Seth C. Lippincott of Walkkill, who sentenced him to spend 60 days in jail.

Albany, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Whether Mrs. Anna Antonio, 34-year-old mother of three small children, will go to the electric chair a week from tonight for the murder of her husband, will be decided by Governor Lehman between now and next Thursday.

Enroute to New London, Conn., June 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt cruised today to the race course of the Harvard and Yale crews after warning the universities of the land, and particularly of the east, against narrowness and lauding their experimentation.

He told the alumni of Yale University in this connection late yesterday that the "brain trust" would continue in government and he slapped at criticism of congress in the "more erudite press of the east."

With this extemporaneous, outspoken expression at Yale, where he received an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, Mr. Roosevelt sailed aboard the governmental yacht Sequoia for the Thames River, where tomorrow his own school, Harvard, and his newly adopted alma mater, Yale, will battle with oars.

A more intimate reason lured the president to New London. His son, Franklin, Jr., is a member of the Harvard freeman crew.

Mrs. Roosevelt traveled with the president out on Long Island Sound today. They were accompanied by their eldest son, James, his wife and her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Cushing of New Haven.

Practice To Continue.

Ruling out politics from national government and defending the "brain trust," Mr. Roosevelt remarked at Yale:

"While there has been a certain amount of comment about the use of brains in the national government, it seems to be a pretty good practice—a practice which will continue—this practice of calling on trained people for tasks that require trained people."

"I think it is also true that in the conduct of our government there has been no period in our history where what we call in the wrong sense politics, and the wrong sense politicians, enter less than they do today in the conduct of government."

"I couldn't tell you today the party affiliations of probably the majority of people holding responsible positions in Washington and it is a mighty good thing that I cannot," the President warned that "the danger for all of us graduates, especially, I believe of the larger eastern universities, lies in a narrowness of point of view," but he said with feeling that Harvard and Yale "have pointed the way in education for a great many generations and today Harvard and Yale stand out in the world of education as being willing to experiment—thank God."

"We hear much in the more erudite press of the East," he observed, "about members of the legislative branch of the national government who are usually set down as 'local politicians.'"

Representation

"And yet in that body we must represent the simple fact that they do represent every state and congressional district throughout the length and breadth of the land and that the cross-section of American public opinion is better displayed in the halls of Congress than it is in any aggregation of educated citizens having purely the local point of view."

"After all, we are—whether we like it or not—living in a democracy. I like it. We are going to continue to live in a democracy."

The Sequoia, trailed by Coast Guard cutters carrying Secret Service and newspapermen was due to reach New London late this afternoon.

After the boat races tomorrow the President will motor to the family home at Hyde Park, N. Y., on Saturday to remain over the week-end.

TECHNICAL ORDER NAZI OFFICER A HERO

New Weapon Involves Basic Change of Relations Between The Commission and NRA.

(Copyright, 1934.
(By The Associated Press)

Washington, June 21 (AP)—The government, an authoritative source disclosed today, has forced a new weapon to strike at monopolistic oppression of the "little fellow" and chiseling.

By a far-reaching change in procedure, this source said, the Federal Trade Commission is to become a business court to mete out swifter decisions on charges of unfair practices.

The new weapon, involving a basic change of the relations between the commission and NRA, is contained in a technical order issued by the commission.

As this order was explained today, the emphasis is to be placed on the commission's judicial function. Hitherto its operations have been three-fold. It investigated, made complaints, and then sat in judgment on its own complaints.

President Roosevelt, it is said, suggested the commission and NRA be brought together to iron out apparent conflicts in procedure.

An explanation is contained in a private memorandum. This does not discuss the implications of the order, but it was said these three points are important.

1. The small business man may appear before the commission to argue his case if a code authority has complained. He thereby obtains a legal forum not previously in existence.

2. Similarly the code authority must argue its case before the commission.

3. The commission sits as a non-partisan judge.

The order in point was issued in the case of three rubber concerns which NRA accused of violating price fixing provisions of the code.

NRA and the companies will argue before the commission, which may either proceed against the companies or dismiss NRA's complaint.

The commission is further enabled to hand down decisions to begin the creation of a body of law under which code authorities will operate.

The order does not alter past procedure on matters not coming under the codes.

Two Women in Jail In Oneonta Murder

Oneonta, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—A special grand jury will meet Monday to consider the bizarre murder of Harry Wright, 49-year-old roadhouse handy man, who was run over several times by an automobile, according to Otsego county authorities, and then left beside a highway to make it appear he had been struck by a hit-and-run driver.

Two women are in jail, each accusing the other of driving the car which caused Wright's death. One of the women, officials said, was the beneficiary of three insurance policies on the victim's life totaling $15,000.

She is Mrs. Eva Coe, 45, owner of the roadhouse where Wright worked at odd jobs for four years. The other is Mrs. Martha Clift, 28, said by troopers to have divided her time recently between the roadhouse and her home in Oneonta.

Both women, District Attorney Donald H. Grant said, had signed statements charging each other with driving the car. Grant said they told him they had driven to a lonely spot on Crumhorn Mountain with Wright.

Mrs. Coe, the district attorney said, told him Mrs. Clift ran the car into Wright while his back was turned and then drove over him several times. Mrs. Clift said it was Mrs. Coe who ran over the cripple.

CAPTAIN FOX WITH 20 OF
HIS TROOPERS RAID BIG
HIGH FALLS COOK FIGHT

Captain Daniel E. Fox, who came down with Troop C's crack riding team to give exhibitions at the firemen's convention in Saugerties, may be said to have combined business with pleasure when at the head of some 20 troopers he visited the place of Joseph Kelly about a quarter of a mile from High Falls Wednesday night and raised a cock fight.

The troopers backed 46 admirers of the sport who had congregated in a room which had been fitted up for the purpose upstairs in the Kelly house. The names as given to Police Justice Clyde L. Baxter of Rosendale, before whom the prisoners were arraigned, did not, in a number of cases at least, seem to agree with those by which the parties have previously been known in Kingston, Poughkeepsie and other places in this section.

The judge fined the defendants $3 each and held Kelly under $200 bail for appearance before the grand jury.

Memphis, Tenn., June 21 (AP)—A sharp warning that the blue eagle "hasn't lost its appeal" was General Hugh S. Johnson's answer today to the critics "who would hang my hide on the fence to dry."

"They are out to get NRA," he told the National Retail Credit Association last night, "and some of them think the way to get NRA is to get me."

"NRA," he continued, "is bigger than any man or set of men. Don't kid yourselves, this thing is the goods. Business is for it, labor is for it, the public is for it."

Against NRA, he charged, are "only a jabbering, moaning clique of oppositionists."

The blue eagle, Johnson predicted, will "stay put" as an emblem of clean business.

TWO ADJOURNMENTS TAKEN

Two cases that came up for a hearing today in police court were both adjourned by request until later dates. Olive Hamilton, 20, of 5 Spruce street, was arrested by Dorothy Mills of 235 Main street, Wednesday afternoon on a charge of assault in the third degree. Miss Mills claimed that Miss Hamilton hit her with her fist. Miss Hamilton pleaded not guilty and asked for an adjournment to next Tuesday morning, which was granted. Alfred Ose, 27, of Crum Elbow, arrested on a charge of petit larceny, had his hearing adjourned to June 29. The case grew out of a transaction at the sales stables on Field Court in which a saddle is involved.

Report Poderjay Made Love To Concert Violinist Simultaneous ly With Courting of Miss Tufverson.

AWAIT FINDING BODY

Police Reported Evidence Connecting Captain Ivan Poderjay
Was Strengthening.

New York, June 21 (AP)—A topsy turvy scene, with papers strewn over the floor, met the gaze of a negro maid who entered the apartment of Captain Ivan Poderjay on December 22, last.

This disclosure, from a reliable source, was contrary to earlier less reliable reports, and it added new facts to the already multi-faceted mystery of the missing Agnes Tufverson.

Still another new disclosure, from the same reliable source, was to the effect the dashing, now suspected, Poderjay made love to a widowed concert violinist simultaneously with the courting of Miss Tufverson, the successful woman lawyer.

Police learned the concert violinist repulsed him. They learned also that Poderjay attempted to induce her father, a patent attorney, to join him in business, but dropped the idea when the patent attorney demanded Poderjay provide part of the capital.

The negro maid, detectives said, was Flora Miller. She left the Poderjay apartment at 11 o'clock on December 29, then seeing Miss Tufverson as a final last time. She was ordered by Poderjay to return on the 22nd.

Apartment Awry

When she came back, she told the police, the apartment was awry. Poderjay was poring over correspondence and papers. Other papers were strewn over the floor.

The four trunks—around which the interest of the mystery centers—were packed and ready to be sent to the steamer.

The maid cleaned the apartment and destroyed the papers on the floor in an incinerator.

Poderjay, who is reported to have stayed alone in his cabin with one of his trunks throughout his voyage to England, now is held in Vienna as a big game suspect.

On the theory that Miss Tufverson may have been murdered and secretly interred, police today were directing inquiry into all recent burials of any unusual circumstances.

Evidence Reported Strengthening

Vienna, June 21 (AP)—Otto Steinhilber, secretary of Vienna's international police organization, said today evidence connecting Captain Ivan Poderjay with the disappearance of Agnes Tufverson was strengthening.

No Confession

"We do not yet have a confession," Steinhilber said, "and we can only accuse him of murder when the chain of circumstantial evidence is closed."

"For this we wait from America news of the finding of Miss Tufverson's body."

While police were confident that Poderjay was involved in the mystery, they expressed belief that Susanne Ferrand, the Frenchwoman with whom Poderjay was living here had no connection with it.

After stints found on Miss Tufverson's trunk were proved not to be blood, police turned to an Englishman in their investigation.

They expressed belief Capt. Frederick Davey, with whom Miss Ferrand was said to have lived before her marriage to Poderjay, would prove an important witness.

AUTO ACCIDENT

A report to the sheriff's office about 5:30 Wednesday evening that a woman had been severely injured in an automobile accident on Johnson's hill, off the Lomontville road, took Deputies Molyneux and Vredembush on a hurried trip to the scene. On arrival they found that the accident happened last Saturday night and that the injured person was a young woman named Rose Warren, who was suffering from an injury on the hip and the back. She told the officers that she was hurt when an automobile driven by Peter Scully, in which she and a number of others were riding to Kingston, overturned on Johnson's hill. She was taken to the Kingston Hospital where her injuries were treated and this morning X-rays were taken to locate any possible fractures.

Cashin Pupils' Revue Pleases Record Crowd

The revue, "Cashin Kiddles on Parade," given by pupils of Miss Helen Cashin between the first and second shows at the Broadway Theatre Wednesday night, drew a crowd that packed the house and for nearly an hour and a half held the admiration and interested attention of every person present. The various numbers of the program were charmingly announced by Betty Mason and Kay Mahoney who were introduced by Leo Morgan in a "Cashin for Two."

There were four scenes given, the first being the Hawaiian scene, in which 36 children took part. It opened with a pleasing quartet by the Hawaiianians, "My Little Grass Shack," followed by a solo by Betty Mason, given by seven of the advanced pupils. Betty Rose Nichols gave a solo on the solo during this scene.

The Gypsy scene presented three attractive dance groups and two very pleasing vocal solos by Mrs. Jessie Wulferst.

The next scene, a rainbow ballet, opened with a solo by Leo Morgan. "A Rainbow of Girls" accompanied by Irene McQuaid in a musical comedy dance. One of the most popular numbers of the scene was the "Glow Worm," given by four little tots, Mary and Walter Joyce, Janet Schultz and Jimmy Roe, who were applauded to the echo. A solo by Jane Ball was one of the outstanding numbers of this scene and of the entire program.

The final scene, "On Board the S. S. Cashin," brought in the entire company of 70 performers. Solo parts were taken by Donald Schultz. It closed with a waltz clog, given in perfect rhythm by all.

Two specialty numbers that were particularly well received were the song and dance, "He is a Hum-dinger," by Irene McQuaid and Lillian Gresser, and a broom dance by seven pupils.

"Echoes" Subject Of Rotary Talk

David C. Lithgow of Albany, a painter of ability and originality, was the guest speaker at the Kingston Rotary luncheon in the Governor Clinton yesterday noon. Mr. Lithgow spoke on the subject of "Echoes," and his discourse revolved around the interesting theme that there is nothing new in the world, that new discoveries are merely echoes of some past invention, enlarged and made more perfect through human ingenuity. Quoting passages from statements of world famous men even before the time of Christ, the speaker proved his contention that the world remains unchanged, that conditions in antiquity were much the same as they are today, and that men living today are confronted by the same troubles and problems as the peoples of the past.

Before Mr. Lithgow's talk, Walter Elston, president of Rotary for the coming year, received the gavel and the best wishes of Alfred Schmid, retiring president.

BETTY BRONSON PLAYS LEAD AT ELVERHOJ

Two years ago Brock Pemberton tried to get Betty Bronson to play opposite Edward Raquello in "Strictly Dishonorable" but because of motion picture commitments she was unable to do so. Now, two years later they have been brought together in "Genius in Love," a brilliant comedy very similar in its main situation, that of a sophisticated man of the world falling in love with a very unworlly little girl.

Betty Bronson is ideal for the part of Joan in "Genius in Love" because of her genuine sweetness. The same winsome personality which was so charming on the screen is ever more vitally lovely on the stage, enhanced by her sweet lilting voice and delicate coloring. Peter Pan has grown up very beautifully, fortunately for Genius in Love.

To see her with Edward Raquello the great Continental star of stage and screen in "Genius in Love" at the Elverhoj Theatre this week is a very charming experience.

BEGGARS LIVE HIGH AS MONEY ROLLS IN England Finds Beggars' Estimates Too Modest

London.—How true the saying is, "There is no born every minute," is emphasized by an interview in London with R. E. Anthony, inquiry secretary of the Charity Organisation Society. Mr. Anthony is inclined to think that, in England at least, there is more than one born every minute, and that of some of the extraordinary methods employed by trickers who specialize in begging letters, writes John Steele in the Chicago Tribune.

"In London today," he says, "there lives a man who has for more than a quarter of a century done nothing to earn a living except by writing begging letters. He lives in a well appointed flat in Kensington, has an office and maintains a staff of clerks, and has an international organization which operates in America and on the continent. He poses alternately as an ex-army officer, an ex-naval officer, and a doctor of literature."

"We first made the acquaintance of this individual 25 years ago. Then he was preying upon elderly women who were interested in the suppression of 'blood sports.' He formed, so he claimed, a society for the purpose of organizing a campaign to stop 'blood sports,' and subscriptions simply rolled in."

"The man is certainly one of the cleverest of begging letter writers, and is always up to date in his ideas. Now he has turned poet and a doctor of literature, but of what university he does not say."

The Same Old Story.

"Then there is the dear old soul who for years has been making a comfortable living by telling of her hardships. Using accommodation addresses in different parts of London, she writes to titled people. Always it is the same story; her husband has just died, she is in terrible distress; owes $5 a rent. And she encloses her 'rent' book of course."

"In the last twenty years we have known that woman, and I have at least a dozen of her 'rent books,' each very carefully written up and showing the amount said to be owing. She uses a score of different names, and is most sympathetic in her appeals. She never makes the mistake of writing to the same person twice with the same story. That she makes a really splendid living at this sort of thing is shown by the fact that only a few weeks ago we went to one accommodation address near London which she was using and found more than 30 letters waiting for her there, and on the envelope of nearly every one was a crest or a coronet."

"The begging writer specializes very definitely. There is one woman who follows the birth announcements and immediately writes her appeal: 'How happy the new mother must be. Yet I, who became a mother on the same day, am destitute and my child dead. Now I have nowhere to go, for my husband was killed in an accident only a week before the child was born.' Another woman specializes on the engagement column and has a sad story to relate, ending with an appeal for help."

Profession Overcrowded.

"Then, of course, there is always the old soldier or old sailor who writes to widows of naval or military officers, claiming to have served under their husbands. Another clever and persistent begging writer is a man who claims to have been employed at one time by a firm of court jewelers in an exclusive part of London. The man certainly possesses a list of old clients of the firm, and writes his appeals to them, pretending to have done them a service years ago."

"The profession of begging letter writing is rapidly becoming overcrowded. In the last twelve months we have had between 3,000 and 4,000 more inquiries regarding the genuineness of letters than ever before."

In a recent police case in London it was revealed that a man had lived for 30 years on begging letters, keeping a man and woman servant, an automobile and four dogs. It was also stated that the man had a small cottage in the country, and went abroad every year for a couple of months to avoid London fogs and bad weather."

Barro Stages Comeback; Montana Orders Carload

Albuquerque, N. M.—The horse may not be coming back, but the burro is, at least in Montana.

Sawyer Stages, Billings, Mont., firm, recently sent an order here for a carload of burros, in sound health, broken for riding, and suitable for children.

A search of Albuquerque and suburbs resulted in a shipment of less than half a dozen of the beasts of burden.

Large Amber Mines Share in Recovery of Industry

Keweenaw.—The famous amber mines on the East Prussian Baltic coast, long half dormant, are being worked on a 44-hour weekly schedule. The "blue earth" deposits of Paludica, date to the coast 80 miles from here, furnish 90 per cent or more of the world's amber supply.

F. B. R.'s Portrait in South
Baltimore, E. E.—A portrait of President Roosevelt, made entirely of beads, has been completed by George E. Davidson. It took 7,000 beads to make the 24 by 12-inch portrait.

Frames of 1840 Found in Wall
During renovating work in the Arsenal (Court of Artillery), in Dantz, a fresco painting was found under a covering of boards. It is in good condition and shows the creation of Eve, the Trinity and the creation of Adam, the Garden of Eden. Experts estimate it to about the year 1840. The Arsenal was built in its present form in 1840.

Ours is a Frigidaire '34"

The Frigidaire illustrated directly above is Model Standard 424

Instantly—at a finger-touch—the ice trays slide from the freezer of the Frigidaire '34.

And that's only one of the splendid features of this fine, Super Series Frigidaire. It has everything—automatic reset defrosting; a cold storage compartment for frozen foods; the new Frigidaire Servashelf—even an interior electric light.

You will find the Frigidaire '34 makes more ice—120 big, husky ice cubes at one freezing in the model illustrated. It has Lifetime Porcelain inside and out... double Hydrator capacity... a Sliding Utility Basket for eggs and small articles... extra space for tall bottles. And it uses surprisingly little current.

But you really should see the Frigidaire '34. Drop in at one of the show rooms listed below and learn how easy it is to own the finest Frigidaire ever built—it is the only refrigerator that is a product of General Motors.

Chapter 58

DESPERATE WOMAN

HARPER was asking himself how it was possible that this modest beauty could be a murderer. —Aline Croyden was asking herself how much of her story this Sergeant of Detectives had guessed.

"I have been overstepping, Mr. Harper," she announced simply, as one who puts Q. E. D. at the end of a demonstration in geometry.

Harper relaxed, the tenseless casting from muscles instinctively braced against the possible impact of flying steel. The woman was sane and collected, at all events. But her right hand was still invisible, and there was no sign of waving in the set lines of her mouth or the lock in her eyes.

Aline Croyden noticed this furtive lapse of attention. "Please don't try anything heroic," she spoke through tight lips. "Sit down—over there."

Harper, with an air of casualness, took the chair she indicated. "This is very dramatic, but quite useless, you know," he objected.

Her eyes burned at him, suddenly alive. "I had to be sure," she shivered a little. "As soon as I saw your face—"

The detective leaned forward. "Mrs. Croyden, let us talk this situation over quietly between ourselves. Gun-waving is out of place at this stage. There must have been some terrible driving power that forced you to such lengths. Only you can state what it was. Joseph Donaghy's part in it I can guess, but the other—"

"I did not come here to talk. I felt you getting closer and closer to the solution, and I had to see if you really knew. You forced my hand by going after my sister and I. There have nothing to do with this matter, and at least I can have the final decency to shoulder my own burden. And for your own safety let me repeat your warning to Joseph Donaghy—you can hang a person only once. Remember that and act accordingly. . . . Have you a gun in your pocket?"

Harper shook his head. "I carry one only on special occasions. 'You may search me if you like,' he added, half rising from the chair.

"Sit still! If you move or make a noise I'll shoot!" There was no mistaking the steely ring of that voice.

"Come, now," Harper protested. "Even if I had a gun in my pocket I wouldn't try to beat you to the draw. That isn't necessary. You can bluff me, Mrs. Croyden. You're the one in the dangerous spot, and you can't shoot your way out of it this time. My advice is to give in gracefully."

"I shall expect," she replied confidently. "Do you suppose I would plan everything else and not arrange for that? Everything is ready."

Harper shook his head again. "You can't get away. If you shoot at me you'll not get out of this room. And suppose you did escape temporarily? Where could you go? To whom could you turn?"

"The full machinery of the law would be turned to tracking you down. You would be a marked woman wherever you went. You couldn't even find a refuge in the lowest slums or the underworld. They'd give you up to a minute. At most, a few days of terror and flight, and you'd be run down like a rabbit hunted by dogs."

"WE'LL not argue that point." The mask-like face turned to him, with its set lines, the shadows under sleepless eyes. "Tell us, how did you know?"

The detective silently pointed to the lens on the table.

Mrs. Croyden gave it a swift glance. "I don't understand. What were you looking at?"

"That's a professional secret, Mrs. Croyden. Suppose you use the lens for yourself?"

"I would like to, but I can't trust you. Tell me, please," Her voice suddenly broke in quick pleading. "Nothing can matter now!"

The detective thought, if I can keep on talking long enough some one will try that door. When that happens I'll close in and take my chance with her gun.

He spoke deliberately. "Some one struck the top of that table four or five times with a checked fist. That suggests a quarrel or an argument. The marks were made by that ring you are wearing, Mrs. Croyden. The diagonal setting of those two diamonds makes an unmistakable pattern. That gave it away."

The woman digested this in silence. She looked at the ring on her finger, then, standing at the table, made the motion of phantom anger, rapping with knuckles down. "Such a small thing," she murmured.

"Great results are often measured by small details," the detective answered.

She looked at the ring again. "Otherwise, you would not have known," she questioned.

"I wouldn't say that," Harper replied. "It really would have been more baffling to us if Donaghy's death had appeared in its true colors."

"Camouflaging it as suicide really broke up the puzzle. It was there that your logic tripped itself up, for in order to pin the whole thing on the supposed suicide through his 'confession,' you had to give away the secret of that first escape. A fatal error, for it prompted me to look for the same clue in the second instance."

"The same clue?" she repeated.

"YES—the same clue. No matter how clever the deed, there is always an unsuspected clue left behind. Sometimes we are not alert enough to find it." He waved toward the table. "Those diamond marks are an instance. But the clue I referred to was a peculiar cut in the snow which was made when the rope was shaken free and hauled back."

"We found that mark in the beginning, but could make nothing of it. It was only when we were put in possession of the rope itself that its meaning became clear. Naturally, this led me to look in the snow again after we found Donaghy, and there was the same kind of mark."

"That labeled it at once as another murder, in spite of the typed confession, the nature of the wound and the recovered articles. That ingenious excuse for the absence of the blackmail money Donaghy had was suspicious, too, for we know he had not been away from his room last night."

"Thanks for the advice," she drew herself together, slowly pulled the ring from her finger, and deliberately placed it on the table. "This has betrayed me once. It would be dangerous to wear it any longer, wouldn't it? See that it gets back safely to my husband," she said steadily, and left him in a sorry fix, all the trouble he'd caused."

"But, Mrs. Croyden, you can't go away like this, simply saying nothing in your own defense. There must be reasons, explanations, you can give. You owe it to yourself to present your side of the story. Surely Officer Hamill had done nothing to warrant his death?"

Aline Croyden winced from that name as from a blow. "That is the real burden on my conscience," she whispered. "I lost my head—I went crazy—I saw the whole perfect plan I had designed destroyed by that one blind chance. That was murder, but those other two," she flashed with sudden anger blazing in her shadowed eyes, "that was only justice. I have not a single regret. I had to use what weapons I could against them."

Harper lowered his voice. "Mrs. Croyden, who was H.D. really?"

"Neither you, nor any one, shall ever know that," she answered bitterly. "Let him lie in the morgue, let him go to a Potter. Field, I'll never tell. It's the best he deserves. No one will ever come forward to claim him, alive or dead!"

"I am not prying, I'm merely trying to understand your story, Mrs. Croyden," Sergeant Harper said with simple dignity.

"Then I'll help you to understand," she flamed. "I have never been happy in my marriage. It is true that I had an affair with that man. As I look back now, I hardly know how it began, except that I met him at a time when I was unhappy and starved for excitement. She stopped, staring blankly at the detective. "I soon found I had fallen into the hands of a beast. I came to hate him. I tried to break away."

The case, tomorrow, takes a startling turn.

N-E-W-S BEHIND THE N-E-W-S

By PAUL MALLON.

(Copyright, 1934, by Paul Mallon.)

Air Cast.

Washington, June 20.—There is hardly a man on the inside of the war department who does not believe that General Foulis was given unnecessary rough treatment by the House military committee.

They feel generally that the case has more behind it than a simple effort to impose justice.

For one thing, Foulis has always acted rather independently with Congressmen. He made no effort to play politics with them as most government officials do. He even criticized this same House committee once because it did try some log-rolling in the selection of a certain air field. In fact, he blocked the committee's efforts.

That circumstance certainly did not encourage the committee to spare the rod when it had a chance to lay him.

More important, however, is the political aspect.

You can never make war department officials believe that the committee rendered a free non-political judgment. All the Democratic representatives are up for re-election this year. The failure of the air corps to carry the mails will be an issue that they must answer. The simplest possible answer will be that they tried to fire the fellow who over-estimated the army's ability to carry the mails. That clears them.

The committee is denying it. It can point out that the Republican committeemen joined in the scalping of Foulis, which is true.

But they would have a hard time convincing a jury about their motives, as long as the results of their action will be to free themselves politically.

Judgment.

War Secretary Dern is not a particular friend of Foulis. His final judgment must be accepted as non-political. Privately he indicated to friends before going over the record in detail that he thought the committee went much too far.

An Imperial opponent of Foulis is Chief of Staff MacArthur. He and Foulis have been conducting a natural inside battle between the air service and the general staff about the merits of the air service in national defense. Of course, MacArthur can say nothing officially about the matter but you will find that he let the word drop to friends not long ago that if he had been asked whether the air service could carry the mails he would have made the same affirmative response Foulis did.

Evidence.

What really convinces the war department crowd in favor of Foulis is the fact that the only serious charge against him is that he failed to follow the directions of congress in awarding contracts. That is fundamentally true but it was also true of Foulis' predecessors.

The army air people think they know how to buy planes. They like, for instance, to get bombers from the Martins, pursuit planes from Boeing, etc. Because each manufacturer is a specialist in his own particular line.

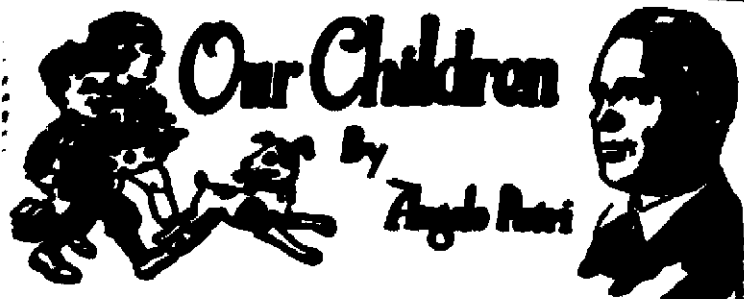

Under competitive bidding, they might get some bombers from submarine manufacturers which would perform like submarines.

Honesty.

The only important issue involved is whether the air corps officers favored certain manufacturers for less patriotic purposes. No one believes they did. The war department group has the utmost confidence in Foulis' honesty.

If there is anything wrong with him, they say, it is over-enthusiasm for the army air corps, which is hardly an indictable offense.

The White House felt more harshly toward Foulis than any one else, because he failed to live up to his promise to carry the mails.

CONSIDER THE CONDITIONS

IN OUR enthusiasm for an ideal we sometimes forget the actual conditions and make much of the good we do. There are many things we would do for children if we could. We believe these things are good for them and do our best to provide them. Nobody ever can do all he wants to do for his children. The conditions do not allow it. Everybody, the wisest and most skilled among us, had to consider the conditions before acting.

Sunshine is fine for children. Wait a minute before you pop the infant into a sunny sunbath and not him in the sun. How about his skin? How much sunshine can it stand without being burned? No good comes of blistering a child's back. It hurts. And it does the skin no kindness. Go carefully and follow the doctor's directions in this matter of sunbathing.

It is fine to let children run barefoot. Where are they going to run? On a fine smooth sandy beach where there are no sharp edged bits of shell, no crab bottle splinters to wound him. On the soft grass, free from crooked stones, broken crockery and glass. I have known a child to cut his foot so badly the first day of his summer vacation as to lay him up for the season. If there is danger of a cut he must wear a sandal, some light footgear that has a sole.

Rambling about the fields is wonderful. Searching for the birds' nest, just for a peek, hunting for wildflowers, just to see them swaying and shining in the sunshine and breeze is a happy adventure. How about protection from poison ivy? It grows along the walls where the birds nest and the wildflowers grow. Teach a child to coat his exposed legs and arms with a lather of brown soap before he starts and to wash well with warm water and a brush and plenty of this laundry soap when he comes back.

Hikes are fine. Who is leading? How long

Saturday Last Day for Blind Sale

Indians Start Wagon Trek Across the Continent

CHIEF WINTER MOON and a band of fellow Indians have started in a covered wagon on a trek from Washington, D. C., to Oregon, following the route taken by Jason Lee, Methodist missionary, in 1834. They will reach Oregon in time to take part in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the missionary's arrival on September 8. In our illustration United States Senator C. L. McNary of Oregon is seen shaking hands with Chief Winter Moon as most of the Oregon delegation in congress and Senator Page of Idaho look on.

The presidential party's tentative plans are to leave Annapolis on the U. S. S. Houston (upper right) and head for Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands (lower right shows road building in the latter). A stop will be made at Cartagena, Colombia (bottom center), and thence a trip through the Panama Canal (lower left). Northern Rhodesia Like an Oval-Shaped Balloon Northern Rhodesia is the northern two-thirds of old Rhodesia, that vast British-owned, central African empire that is named for the intrepid Britisher, Cecil Rhodes, says the National Geographic society. The colony is one of the queerest shaped political subdivisions of Africa. If it were not for a few miles of straight line along its borders, it might be described as the profile of an oval-shaped toy balloon that has been forced out of its normal form by a finger thrust into one side. The finger in the case is a point of land belonging to the Belgian Congo which so far indents the colony's northwestern border that it comes within 100 miles of meeting the border of Mozambique, a Portuguese colony, which bars northern Rhodesia from the Indian ocean.

Most of the colony occupies the central plateau of Africa. Only a small area is less than 3,000 feet above sea level while much of it is about 5,000 feet.

A hike across the wilderness of northern Rhodesia might be compared to a visit to the animal tent of a circus, except that on the African trip there would be no bars and fences between the visitors and the animals. Elephants and giraffes range over nearly the whole colony. Lions, antelopes, and zebras are at home in northern Rhodesia; hippopotamuses are found in nearly every river, and hartebeest.

Mystery of a Grave

Those who make a journey, sentimental or otherwise, to the grave of Laurence Sterne, in the old burial ground of St. George's, Hanover square, may, indeed, sigh to read the inscription on the stone. But let them spare the starting tear! Why? Because Yorick certainly does not lie beneath. The parochial authorities have made rather a habit of shifting the stones about. Before the war, when they turned the graveyard into allotments—which in part remain—the Sterne tomb was situated in the middle. It is now far on the west side. Moreover, there is no sort of certainty that Sterne's remains are anywhere in the ground at all. A contemporary rumor had it that he was "snatched" almost at once. As an old man once encountered near the spot said: "They do say that Jimmy Twitcher got 'un." Now Jimmy was a noted resurrectionist.—London Daily Telegraph.

Most Valuable Autograph

The most valuable autograph in the world, according to R. G. Turner in the Kansas City Times, is that of Burt Gwinnett, an American patriot almost unknown outside the United States and known to only a comparatively few Americans. Gwinnett, born in 1732, was an Englishman who emigrated to America when he was thirty-eight years old. In Georgia, where he settled, he became a prosperous planter and prominent in colonial affairs. In 1776 he represented his adopted state in the continental congress, affixing his signature, along with other members of that body, to the Declaration of Independence. One year later he died, the result of a duel. Alone, his autograph has sold for $23,500. On a document with four other signatures it has commanded a price of $51,000.

THE BIG NEWS IS, THIS NEW "G-3" IS A SENSATION!

AND HERE'S WHY

HERE'S the tire that stood up under the toughest punishment a test fleet ever handed out. Brakes gave out—but the "G-3" All-Weather kept right on rolling. It kept its grip 43% longer than former All-Weathers—twice as long as other makes of tires tested against it.

That's the big news that Goodyear told in advertising—and it started a rush of buyers to our stores—and to every Goodyear dealer's straight across the country. This tire certainly has what car owners want—more miles of safety at no extra cost. Come in—see its heavier, wider, flatter tread with GRIP in the center—and see why Supertwist, Goodyear's patented ply material, provides the only body that can stand up to this mighty tread!

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS-SOUNDS

By ROBERT COONS

HOLLYWOOD—In the world where June rhythms with moon and stars with blue, almost invariably, a film is made.

Producers make pictures that are "sure-fire hits"—in advance of release. They make others that are "sure-fire" until they go out and clean up a fortune.

Gus Kahn, a lyric writer who has years and hits in the game to remember, was reminiscing. The talk went back to nearly 20 years ago, when short music was a gold mine (instead of tin money). At that time, he explained, songwriters wrote two kinds of songs. The first they composed to "sell big." The second was the "counter song," so called because on the music counters it might attract customers who had come only to buy the hit.

One That Still Sells

Kahn was writing one night with Egbert Van Alstyne, composer of hits. They had completed two "great" songs.

"We were clicking," said Gus. "It was one of those nights when the tunes and the words just jumped together and danced and in no time at all we'd finished two masterpieces."

We were going so good we didn't want to quit. Let's turn out a summer song," I said. Van Alstyne drummed a simple waltz tune and I stuck in some words.

"Well, today I forget the names of the two masterpieces. But the little 'counter song' still sells, after 15 years. It's called 'Memories.'"

"The Song Of Whoopees"
Virtually the same thing happened when Kahn and Walter Donaldson, his present partner, were composing for Eddie Cantor's "Whoopee." A number they "made off" one night because it was raining and they had nothing else to do.

"You don't need new words," he said. "All you need is new ways to use the old ones. I claim the public doesn't want new words. No, I don't insist on June and moon myself."

"I," he chuckled facetiously, "have graduated to arms and charms."

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

For the last few years, when Americans have been turning their attention more and more to pastimes that in the past belonged solely to children, so at the very fair, which each spring makes the upper Thirties the top capital of the country, there were playthings to keep grownups amused along with hundreds of others designed to make childhood hours happier and better. In fact, in this mechanical age, this observer had difficulty in determining where one left off and the other began. For instance, there were electric trains with all kinds of accessories ranging from scales for weighing cars to automatic couplers. Curious as it may seem, the intricate trains were for the youngsters whose parents could afford to buy them, while for the parents there were far simpler trains. The essential difference, it seems, is that the toy trains for adults come in pairs so that there may be betting as to which can make the fastest time.

Emphasis seems to have been placed on the gambling instinct as far as toys for adults are concerned. Racing trains had as companions parlor horse races, dog races, and even rabbit races. Then, too, there was the bird cage with dice instead of songsters, a device familiar to visitors of county fairs of the past—"the old army game." Parlor shooting matches may also be held, as complete galleries were exhibited, including those with sets of miniature soldiers which serve as moving targets. There were also pistols and guns, which shoot special copper-covered bullets, and they occasioned the statement that shooting rifles from cigarettes is now a popular pastime among denizens of the Middle West. That statement is not given as fact since I have been unable to verify it.

Another thing that struck my eye was a riding horse. It wasn't the hobbyhorse of old days, but a big thing on heavy springs. Those springs are pulled down and released when the rider gets aboard. Thus there is the effect of a bucking bronco without having to travel to a dude ranch.

The majority of exhibits at the toy fair this year as usual, were of American manufacture though some foreign countries were represented. Among them was Russia. Most of the toys shown from there were peasant products. A number of foreigners attended the fair for the first time because anti-Nazi feeling caused a prejudice against German toys in some localities. Incidentally, the American toy business in the last 14 years has increased from $50,000,000 to $200,000,000 annually.

Just as an afterthought: Adults who buy toys for themselves or for kids this coming Christmas time will pay from 20 to 40 per cent more than they did last year.

Reports a scout: Sauntering along Fifth avenue was a perfect example of how a well-dressed young man should appear—morning coat, top hat, yellow gloves, white spats, malacca cane, etc. At Forty-sixth street a taxi driver made a quick right turn through a puddle and grinned with joy as he splattered the fashion model. But at Madison avenue, a red light stopped the taxi and before it changed, the well-dressed young man arrived, jerked the driver from his seat, soaked him twice and threw him back into the cab. Then he picked up his cane, walked over to the avenue and resumed his saunter. And not even his gardenia was disarranged!

Women drinkers who in the past haven't done much meddling with cocktails, other than the fruit or oyster variety, have brought a new problem to certain popular-priced eating places. So one chain has provided rest rooms where the effects may be allowed to wear off.

That "Goat" on Beer Signs Is an "Algerian Aoudad"

Cincinnati.—Beer drinkers who know their animals will order "Algerian aoudad beer" when going to a quaffing these days—at least, according to Sol Stephan of the Cincinnati zoo, who deposes that the animal appearing on the beer advertisements is not a goat but an Algerian aoudad. In the second place, he affirms, the aoudad is not a goat but a sheep.

Missouri Man Claims He Has Never Lied to Wife

Springfield, Mo.—Marion Baker of the city fire department has a domestic record which he offers anyone in the country to challenge. Although married for 14 years, Baker claims that he never told his wife an untruth. That is an almost impossibility, he asserts, but he has managed never to lie to her.

67 Widows Mourn Late King of Zulus

Cape Town.—Six costly motor cars, consisting of a leopard-skin giraffe, gold-branded coat and bus conductor's cap, and 67 wives were left behind by Solomon, king of the 300,000 Zulus, whose death occurred recently.

"Aviator," Common Gender

According to a definition given by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the word "aviator" is a noun of common gender, meaning the pilot of a heavier-than-air craft. The word "aviatrix," therefore, is not necessary and does not appear in the list of sanctioned terms.

Kingston: "Sorrell and Son"
Made into one of the finest silent pictures ever presented on the screen several years ago, this story from the pen of the prolific Warwick Deering has been revised into a talking picture of charm and merit. It is the history of a man, beaten by life, who devotes the remainder of his years to his son. Upon him he showers all his love, help and affection, for in him he sees himself as he might have been. Filmed in England by a British company, H. B. Warner is the only American actor with a leading role in the play. As Sorrell, Mr. Warner plays an inspired part and the picture is decidedly worth seeing.

Orpheum: "It Happened One Night"
As a good comedy and romance as one could wish for will be found in this picture starring Claudette Colbert and Clark Gable. A wealthy girl, running away from a marriage she detests, finds excitement on the open road as she travels incognito across the country. A reporter, wise to who she is, follows her, and they fall in love after numerous complications.

Broadway: "Catherine the Great"
Another costume picture of English vintage, with Elizabeth Bergner, talented German star, in the title role, and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. as the mad Grand Duke Peter. The greater share of the action in this talkie takes place at the final stages of Catherine's reign, and it is an elaborate and well planned production.

Tomorrow

Kingston: Same.
Orpheum: "Torch Singer" and "Life in the Raw."
Claudette Colbert is a blues singer in the opening talkie, and she has a right to be blue because troubles assail her greatly. All turns out well in the final stanza, however. The cast includes Ricardo Cortez, David Mann, and Lydia Robert. "Life in the Raw" is the title indicates, is not a drawing room drama. It's a tale of the wild, wide open spaces, where men are men and a horse is man's best pal. The fireworks begin early and stay late as George O'Brien, Charlie Trevor and Greta Nissen work out the plot together.

Broadway: "Midnight" and "Gun Justice."
Sidney Fox, along with an excellent cast, works hard in this mob drama of capital punishment. The foreman of a jury who sends a woman to the electric chair is the father of a daughter who kills the man she loves. There are not many bright spots in this show. "Gun Justice" is a western thriller with Ken Maynard in the saddle. "Catherine the Great" will also be shown.

SENIOR EMMA WYGANT
4-H CLUB MET JUNE 19.

The members of the Senior Emma Wygant 4-H Club met at the home of Mrs. Palen on June 19. The members judged the corn meal muffins. During the recreation committee games were played. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Palen and were enjoyed by all.

Detecting Air on Planets
Scientists determine whether or not there is an atmosphere surrounding a planet by studying spectroscopic photographs. A spectroscopic breaks up light beams and reveals the elements (if there are any) which modify the reflected rays of the sun. These elements are shown on the photographs as lines.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting.

Thousands of sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have learned that quick and lasting relief can be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts lifeless. To end Piles an internal medicine should be used to stimulate the circulation, and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for hundreds of patients with a marvelous record of success and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID tablets from their own druggist with a rigid money back guarantee.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Mc Bride Drug Stores say "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe, clear way to get rid of your Pile misery or money-back."—Ad.

Annual Reports of P. T. A. Associations

Following is the annual report of the Parent-Teacher Association for the year:

High School
The Parent-Teacher Association of the High School has closed a very successful year. This year the theme of the Association was "The High School Student and His Needs." At each meeting this theme was carried out by prominent speakers.
At our December meeting was presented a model assembly under the direction of Miss Tarrant and Mr. Stone. In January, Dr. Robert Frederick of Albany spoke on Junior High Schools—a most timely subject owing to conditions in this city which warrant such a project as described by Dr. Frederick. At another of our meetings the High School Debating Society debated on "Resolved that the U. S. adopt the British Broadcasting System."
The association is offering two prizes at commencement. Five dollars each for the highest mark in American History and in Commercial work.
The money for carrying on our work was raised by card parties.
We sent one delegate to the County Conference at the Y. M. C. A. and three delegates to the Spring Conference in Newburgh.
Also, we cooperated with the Federated Council in the presentation of the opera, "Hansel and Gretel."
Respectfully submitted,
MRS. ROBERT A. LISCOM,
President

School No. 1
In September we held a card party the proceeds of which were used purchasing eye glasses for the children and taking care of dental work.
At Halloween and Christmas we gave the children of the school a party.
We cooperated with the Federated Council in presenting the opera "Hansel and Gretel."
We sent two delegates to the Spring Conference at Newburgh.
Respectfully submitted,
MRS. T. DONOVAN,
President

School No. 2
October: Held a card party.
November: Held a Thanksgiving party for the children.
December: Bought candy for children for Christmas.
January: Held cake sale.
February: Held interesting Founders Day program.
April: Purchased glasses for girl and blossoms for boy.
We cooperated with the Federated Council in the presentation of the opera Hansel and Gretel.
Respectfully submitted,
MRS. SALZMANN,
President.

School No. 4
We had a planned program at nearly every meeting with an interested speaker and followed by a discussion.
Card parties were held. A play repeated for us by the P. T. A. of No. 8 netted us a goodly sum.
Our biggest work was the sorting of between 60 and 70 lunch pupils daily, from January to the Easter recess with hot cocoa. Because of generous donations of cocoa, sugar, and money toward the milk the cost was not great for the school.
We sent two boys needing a vacation to the Y Camp for a week last summer and also bought glasses for two children. We purchased a volley ball for the girls and financed the new basketball court. Candy was given at Christmas to the downstairs grades.
A delegate was sent to the Ulster County Conference and two delegates to the District Conference.
A membership drive in the fall left us with 74 members.
Respectfully submitted,
BESSIE ANDERSON,
Secretary.

School No. 5
Our October meeting, we had 25 subscriptions to the Child Welfare Magazine. We purchased rubber cuffs, aprons and capes to sell.
In November we held a large card party. Our membership drive was reported on and we had 185 members.
At our December meeting we held Fathers' Night and voted to give candy to the pupils for Christmas.
At our January meeting our president, Mrs. Deegan, resigned and Mrs. Geisler elected to take her place.
At our February meeting we held Founders' night.
At our April meeting we purchased 3 pairs of eye glasses for needy children and bought 29 tickets to take children from the Industrial home to the opera "Hansel and Gretel."
At our May meeting we voted prizes of $1 each to the pupils having the highest average in each room.
Respectfully submitted,
MRS. GEORGE J. GEISLER,
President

School No. 6
The No. 6 P. T. A. of Kingston with a membership of 245 has awarded $5 to the boy and girl of the graduating class of January and June with the highest average in the Regent's examinations and $2.50 to the boy and girl placing second.
$2 was sent to aid in defraying the expenses of the county director. Prizes of $1.50 were given to the upstairs and downstairs room securing the largest number of members before November 1.
We purchased English books needed by the eighth grade and also extra song books for use in the assembly.
A card party was held at the Governor Clinton and two small parties were held in private homes. Both yielded a goodly sum.
Soup and cocoa were served during the winter months.
Gave a card party to raise money for Christmas presents for needy boys and girls.
Purchased eye glasses.
Sent $5 to the Federated Council.
Gave candy to the children at Christmas.
Respectfully submitted,
MRS. JOHN BOOGA,
President

School No. 7
The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 7 is closing a busy and successful year.
Our first contribution was the serving of milk which we commenced immediately. We commenced the serving of soup for luncheon October 1st. Both have been given to those who need it.

We contributed $3 toward the expenses of sending our County Director to the State Convention at Syracuse.

Our membership drive brought in 200 members. A prize of $1 was given to the room with 100 per cent of families enrolled.

We presented a petition to the board of education asking for immediate help to remedy the crowded conditions in our school.

Our program was planned for the year and a copy sent to the state convention for which we obtained three stars.

At Christmas time we presented the usual Christmas tree. Our gifts to the first six rooms were individual and suited to their years. To the upper grades we presented the boys and girls with a pair of baskets and nets, basket ball, volley ball and hand ball.

In February we held a formal subscription dance at the Governor Clinton Hotel which netted a large sum.

Our association has given very good support to the Parent Education Groups. We also did our best to further the production of "Hansel and Gretel".

The usual prizes of $1 each will be given to the child with high average for his grade at the close of the semester.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANCES I. CRAIG,
President.

School No. 9
The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 9 is closing a busy and successful year.

Ukulele First Taken to Honolulu by Portuguese

Two popular misconceptions surround the ukulele, the Hawaiian stringed instrument. One has to do with the country in which it originated; the other concerns the pronunciation of the word itself, writes G. E. Turner in the Kansas City Times.

The ukulele is of comparatively recent popularity in the Hawaiian Islands. It was carried there by Portuguese sailors, who were accustomed to its plaintive strummed notes in their native Portugal. But prior to its adoption by the Portuguese, the ukulele was popular in Germany, historical verification of which is found in a drawing and description of such an instrument in the Royal Library at Stuttgart, dated 1180.

Hawaiians, however, are responsible for the name, which, according to Webster's Dictionary, is in both English and Hawaiian pronounced so-koo-lay-lay, accent on next to the last syllable. It is derived from uku, meaning "leap," and lele, meaning "to jump." The literal interpretation, therefore, is "jumping flea," a name suggested by the rapid movements of the player's fingers.

brought to our attention by the school faculty. We give semi-annually the Darrow Memorial prizes to the children. Also $10 each term to the graduating class banquet. We bought patron tickets for the Kiwanis benefit and sent ten children to "Hansel and Gretel".

Our membership has reached the 195 mark. A play in the fall, given by our members, was a splendid success as was our card party held this spring.

We sent four delegates to the spring conference in Newburgh.

Respectfully submitted,
CATHARINE M. CLEARWATER,
President.

"Cowboys"

The term "cowboys" was applied in the American Revolution to a band of American Tories who infected the neutral ground of Westchester, N. Y., rubbed the Whigs and Loyalists and made a specialty of stealing cattle. A similar band of marauders on the British side received the name of "skimmers." The word "cowboys" is now used to designate men who have charge of the cattle on the ranges in the west and southwest of the United States. They usually are described as being picturesque, well-mounted, adventurous and bold in the encountering of dangers. Some of them who enlisted in two regiments of cavalry for the war with Spain, under the popular name, "Rough Riders," distinguished themselves in the early part of the campaign against Santiago.

How They

We are living in a period of revolutionary change, and those which have been accepted or taken for granted for centuries are now being called into question.

NEW GULF PROVES POWER IN TESTS AGAINST 32 GASOLINES

Will you get better performance if you switch to the new Gulf gas? Read this...

A SERIES of power tests on famous hills in New England, in the Middle Atlantic States, and in the South have proved this...

All leading brands of gasoline are not alike! Their power varies widely. And of 32 gasolines, the new Gulf gas shows uniformly greater power. 7 times out of 12, it pushed a car and heavy load further up mountain grades than any other gasoline tested!

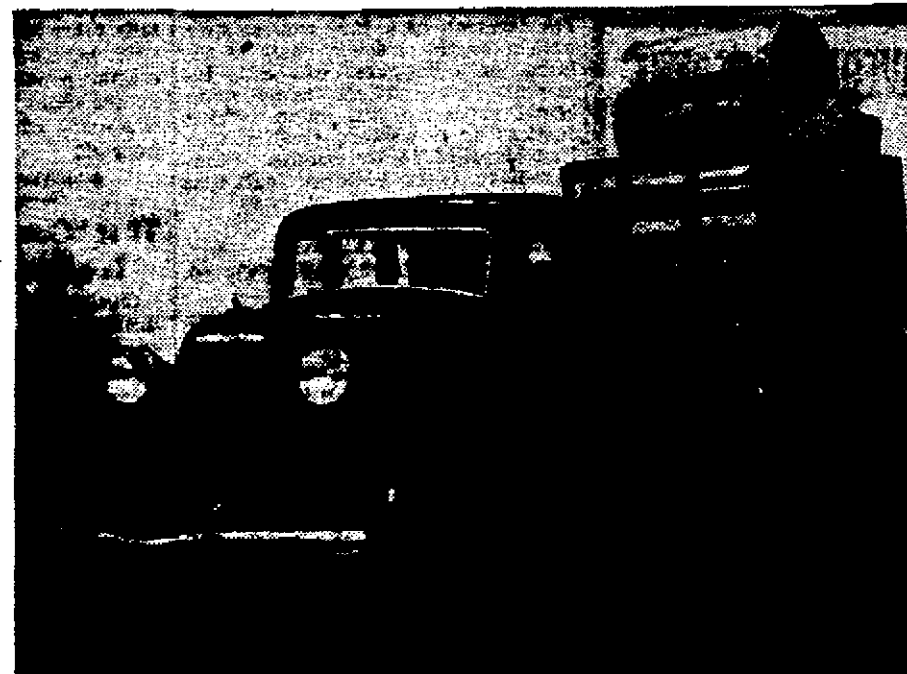

Prove Gulf's greater power! Drive in to a Gulf station. Fill up with that Good Gulf. Then "step on it"—and get a thrill.

HOW 32 GASOLINES RANKED (IN ALL TESTS TO DATE)

Table with 32 columns representing different gasoline brands and rows showing their performance rankings in various tests.

Each of the 32 brands of gasoline tested is indicated on the chart by a letter, A to Z. Note that Gulf gas was uniformly best. Other high-ranking gasolines varied widely in different tests.

SUNSET MT., ASHEVILLE, N. C. A borrowed Plymouth took 4900 lbs. up hill to test the power of 8 leading gasolines.

FRIGIDAIRE PLANS NEW SMALL BOX.
Dayton, Ohio, June 19.—Introduction of a small electric refrigerator that uses an extremely low amount of electricity and makes it possible for persons in the lowest income brackets to have in their homes modern means of food preservation, was announced today by Frigidaire Corporation, subsidiary of General Motors Corporation.

The new refrigerator is a radical departure from conventional design models with which the public is so thoroughly acquainted, the announcement of E. G. Biechler, Frigidaire president, stated, in that the door opens upward rather than from the front outward.

"Brain Trust" To Be Issue In Campaigns

Washington, June 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt's brain trust is expected to make some of its first appearance in the campaign for the fall elections.

There seemed no doubt that the men from the universities would be included as "brain trusts" as the campaign for the fall elections rises to a crescendo.

Supporters reading the speech in which the President accepted a degree from Yale yesterday, found themselves in a dilemma.

"What on that basis?" it seemed to them to say.

The job the new deal is taking promised also to furnish powder for the campaign runs on both sides.

A few hours after the President's New Haven speech, Orden Mills spoke in New York, hitting the new deal with the declaration that "a planned economy is surrender."

Judging from the comebacks here today, Republicans plan to pose the question: "How brainy is that?"

"It will be one of the outstanding topics of the coming campaign," declared Senator Dickinson, of Idaho. "We are all for brains when they are leading us in the right direction, but against them when they take us the wrong way."

Advisors of the President kept their own counsel. Not receptive to interviews, Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell was standing with Professor Raymond Moley on the position that there isn't any "brain trust" any more.

CHILDREN'S DAY OBSERVED AT KRIPPLEBUSH M. E. CHURCH

Krippebush, June 21.—Children's Day was traditionally observed at the Krippebush M. E. Church, when the children returned to the church.

The opening number of Children's Day exercises was a song entitled "When Summer Comes", rendered by the choir and Sunday school, as the delightful strains of the organ, deftly manipulated by Miss Gladys Vandemark, organist. Following the responsive reading by the Sunday school an interval of prayer was offered by Mr. Strivings, the pastor.

The Children's Day recitations under the tutelage of Miss Gladys Vandemark and Miss Dorothy Davis came next. Each recitation was well-rendered. A unique feature of this part of the program was the "Flag Drill" under the direction of Mrs. Jane Vandemark. A beautiful pantomime followed at the close of the recitations and was very expressive, "A Basket of Flowers." It portrayed the flowers, sitting away from the garden, at March, April, May and June.

At the entrance of June all suddenly became still in the garden. The sun which arose from behind a scenic effect of hills and trees shone happily at the advent of June. And the flowers seemed alive with expectation, because June was once more come to gather her best and beautiful flowers for Children's Day. The Rose was portrayed by Frances Lyons; Hollyhock, Murray Mosquesski; Johnny-Jump-Ups, (who just would fall asleep at all times), Simon Hornbeck and Leslie Tilson; Weed, Milford Vandemark; Lily, Marjorie Durham; Sweet William, more.

Dismiss 3 Indictments Against Mason Millers

James of Elmer Park, a year term in the county jail last week. James had several prior convictions. It was Prophet's first and he was sentenced to one year in the county jail, but on account of his record and on recommendation of the district attorney the execution of sentence was suspended during good behavior and he was paroled to the probation officer.

Cases Go Over the Town.

On the call of the criminal calendar the cases of The People vs. Victor DeMare went over the term on application of A. J. Cook, counsel for defendant, because of the absence of an important and material witness. The Elliott case was put over until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Carlo Aiello case went over on motion of Chris Flanagan for the reason that an important witness was missing. He said this was a "companion" case to the DeMare case. Patrick Redmond will have a hearing Monday afternoon.

The indictment against Joseph James Sheehan was dismissed on request of the complainant. It was a rape charge. A letter from complainant was filed with the court.

James of Elmer Park, a year term in the county jail last week. James had several prior convictions. It was Prophet's first and he was sentenced to one year in the county jail, but on account of his record and on recommendation of the district attorney the execution of sentence was suspended during good behavior and he was paroled to the probation officer.

Cases Go Over the Town.

On the call of the criminal calendar the cases of The People vs. Victor DeMare went over the term on application of A. J. Cook, counsel for defendant, because of the absence of an important and material witness. The Elliott case was put over until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Carlo Aiello case went over on motion of Chris Flanagan for the reason that an important witness was missing. He said this was a "companion" case to the DeMare case. Patrick Redmond will have a hearing Monday afternoon.

The indictment against Joseph James Sheehan was dismissed on request of the complainant. It was a rape charge. A letter from complainant was filed with the court.

Civilized Sahara
Three-and-a-half million square miles of sand. That is the Sahara desert, says Dr. H. H. Maguire. Six thousand years ago we might have seen it as an expanse of grassland, where flocks and herds grazed in abundance. This conception of the Sahara's past has been formulated as a result of a chance nap, taken by a member of a scientific expedition when exploring the Oases of Kufra. On awakening, his attention strayed to a series of rough scratches on the rocks forming his pillow. Investigation found these rocks lavishly decorated with prehistoric paintings of goats, cows, oxen, sheep, gazelles, and elephants, most of them depicted in the act of performing agricultural labor, and all testifying to the Sahara's erstwhile fertility. Actual grindstones, flint plowshares, and other implements of Stone Age man have been found in the sands around the Oueinat oases to the west of Khartoum, a region of sandstorms.

Pluto's average distance from the sun is 40 times that of the earth, or about 3,660,000,000 miles.

Minister Without Portfolio
A minister without portfolio refers to a member of the cabinet of the European parliamentary type. The cabinet as a whole is formed by the prime minister at the request of the president or the king, and it includes the heads of the regular departments corresponding to the members of the cabinet of the United States. It may also include cabinet ministers who do not head any given department, but who may assist the premier in any cabinet matters. Such a minister has equal rank with other cabinet ministers, but is not an executive as the head of a department.

Penguins in Love
Penguins in love are pugnacious. When more than one Romeo is attracted to the same Juliet, a merry fight is likely. With beaks and flipper they go for each other, delivering cuts and stabs and raining savage blows about them with such speed that the eye can hardly follow. If the fair object of all this excitement has a preference she may enter the fray on his side, but more often she will sit by serenely.

Ulster County Pomona Meeting

The Ulster County Pomona Grange met for its regular quarterly session at the Stone Ridge Grange Hall on the afternoon and evening of Friday, June 1.

The meeting was opened in the Fifth Degree by the Worthy Pomona Master Harold V. Story. The opening song was "America the Beautiful." After saluting the flag and singing the "Star Spangled Banner," the business of the meeting was begun.

The following acted as pro tem officers: Overseer, Brother James; assistant steward, Brother Styles; gatekeeper, Brother Van Allen; Flora, Sister LeFever; Pomona, Sister Clark. The treasurer read his report which was accepted.

William Palmer was elected as a member of the executive committee to fill the vacancy to January, 1935, made by the death of the late C. Ira Thompson.

The following were appointed to act on the resolutions committee: Sister Hornbeck and Brothers Clark and Covert.

Brother Palmer, Sister Dodge and Brother Styles were appointed on the committee of applications.

Mary B. Brink, worthy secretary, read the reports from the Granges. Nearly all the Granges reported "Spring Cleaning" days. A number reported "Merry Neighbor Nights." All seem to be well off financially and report earning money through card and bunco parties, plays, suppers, dances and socials.

A very beautiful memorial service was held by the Worthy Chaplain David Keiffer in loving memory of the following members of Pomona who had died: Percy Buckmaster, Mrs. G. W. DuBois, Harry D. Freer, D. W. Ostrander, Amy Atkins, Ralph Harcourt, A. W. Hoffman, Frederick Davis, C. Ira Thompson and James D. Wright.

Brother Weaver, worthy deputy, explained when the Grange was at "case." By having the Master's and Lecturer's Conferences four times a year will count toward making Ulster county one of the Gold Medal Counties of the state.

A motion was made and carried that a note of thanks and appreciation be sent to Bro. Burgevin for the lovely flowers which so beautifully decorated the hall.

Bro. Kurt said that the Regional Market at Newburgh was making good headway and that there would be a subsidiary market at Poughkeepsie.

A motion was made and carried that the Ulster County Pomona Grange endorse the Regional Market at Newburgh.

Miss Nance gave a resume of the work of the Home Bureau. She said over 500 persons had visited the county-wide exhibit which the Home Bureau held in the Carl building on Wall street.

Sister Young said that the milk situation in New York was very grave as the pastures were so poor owing to the lack of rain. No milk milk is wanted in New York city. The milk industry is one of the major industries in this state and not merely a welfare project. The milk situation is very complex and the controversy is very keenly felt. It costs one cent a quart to haul milk to New York city.

Sister Kukul, chairman of the Pomona service and hospitality committee, reported that her committee had held the annual spring conference and luncheon with the state chairman, Mrs. Earl B. Clark, at guest speaker. The state and county leaflets were distributed at that time. There will be a state-wide "Cake Baking Contest" this year, conducted by the American Agriculturist.

After a delicious supper served by the ladies of the M. E. Church of Stone Ridge the evening session was opened in due form in the fifth degree.

The following candidates were obligated in the fifth degree: Elizabeth Davis of Lake Katrine, Deborah Styles and the Rev. August Marler of Stone Ridge, and Milton Van Dusen and Eugene Stevens of Plattkill.

Flowers and notes of cheer were sent to Past Deputy Fred Vail of Milton and to Brother and Sister Hardenburg of Stone Ridge who were reported ill.

The Rev. Roscoe Strivings of Stone Ridge was the guest speaker of the evening. The Rev. Mr. Strivings is the son of the late State Master Strivings. The Rev. Mr. Strivings spoke on the connection of the church and the Grange. He said they should be friendly and cooperate with each other; making each the complement of the other, not substituting the one for the other.

The annual singing contest was held at this time. Mrs. Herbert Smith of Stone Ridge sang a solo, "Song of the Ages," and Brother and Sister Hookey of Lake Katrine sang a duet, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." The two numbers will compete at the regional contest to be held soon.

Two miniature programs of 15 minutes each were presented by the Worthy Lecturers Sister Church of Homewick and Sister Kopsky of Plattkill on the milk question.

The county prize speaking contest will be held on October 5 at Highland Grange Hall. All subordinate lecturers are urged to prepare now for their contests.

The September Pomona meeting will be held at the Highland Grange Hall on Friday, September 14, afternoon and evening.

It has been estimated that crops grown in the United States remove about six billion pounds of plant food from the soil each year.

Origin of Playing Cards

Credited to Many Nations

Scholars are frequently at loggerheads concerning the origin of playing cards. Some attribute their invention to the Chinese about A. D. 450; others believe them to have been in vogue among the Arabs and Egyptians from time immemorial. They are certainly of Eastern ancestry, and were originally an adaptation of chess.

The first European pack, the Venetian, appeared about 1350. It consisted of 78 pieces—22 emblems and 56 numerals—each about the size of a penny. The numerals were in turn divided into four suits, each with a king, queen, knight, knave, and ten others numbered from one to ten.

Time saw fit to cut this cumbersome collection. First the emblems, depicting the major episodes in a man's life, such as birth, death, and judgment, received marching orders, followed a year or two later by the four knights, leaving the pack with 52 representatives.

Early in their career, cards met with fierce persecution from priests and Puritans, who dubbed them "the devil's picture books." Thinking to circumvent ecclesiastical wrath, the Italians adopted cups, batons, money, and swords as the symbols of the suits, making it plain that cups stood for Faith, batons for Courage, money for Charity, and swords for Justice. The Germans changed the markings into hearts, bells, leaves, and acorns, while the French took as their symbols, spades, hearts, diamonds, and clubs, a system of marking that has endured from Elizabethan days. — Montreal Herald.

Moths' Wireless Messages

One of the most puzzling problems in Nature is the way moths can discover one another's whereabouts from great distances. The female vapor moth is one with which experiments have often been made. If she is put in a box and set outside a window, a number of males will soon fly to the spot. So with the oak egger moth, and many others. When a newly emerged female is imprisoned in a box or little cage, all the males in the neighborhood will swarm to find her. One naturalist does not think that the moths scent one another, for he has found, he relates, that the males will fly down the wind to find an imprisoned female, and he favors an idea that some sort of wireless messages are sent out and received by the moths' antennae. But if scent be not the clue to the mystery, how can one account for the fact that if a female vapor moth is put in a match-box for awhile, then removed, and the empty box is carried into a wood where the males abound, they will hover about the box?

Washington's 1814 Fire

In the fire of 1814 in Washington, which was started by the British, President Madison, his cabinet, and the heads of departments scampered for safety, and all the public records of the American republic were destroyed except those in the land commissioner's office. The commissioner of this office was Edward Tiffin, the first to hold the position. Tiffin, who was also Ohio's first governor, remained in his office and saved the complete records of his department. Despite the confusion and scampering of statesmen in all directions, the cool-headedness of the Ohioan caused the records and documents to be removed to a place of concealment ten miles out of the city.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

by Molly Merrick

(In which the famous humorist, as Melville Merrick's guest columnist, reveals your mind of some of its doubts about Hollywood.)

By IRVIN S. COBB

(Copyright, 1934, by The North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

Hollywood, Calif., June 20.—Perhaps some morbid person wants to know my answer to the universal question:

What do I think of Hollywood?

I think one of the most amusing things about it is the plaintive way everyone asks you this very question. They peer up at you with a pathetic flicker in the eyes and say: "Well, what do you think of Hollywood?"

Suppose you should say "No."

I've never been in a place where people promise so carelessly to visit at such long distances. "We'll run over to see you" may mean a drive of anywhere from 150 to 300 miles. I was a bit mystified when I first got here. I'm not mystified now. They never expect to live long enough to pay the visit. They expect to get killed inside the first ten blocks. And generally do.

The way everybody drives here it's a miracle you live through any day from sunrise to sunset. I get goose-flesh when I see a Japanese gardener speeding toward me with a car full of rakes and brooms and other implements and a great coil of garden hose balanced to one side. I know he'll pass me on the left, cut across in front of me with the unperturbed look of a Buddha, make a right-hand signal for a left-hand turn, or vice versa. The first rule in driving in Southern California is—come to a dead halt when you see an Oriental gardener.

The second rule: Remember all retired Iowa farmers turn left from the extreme right of the road and without paying the occasion the tribute of a backward glance.

The third thing to remember is this: There is no place in the world, Paris, Rio, Lima, Madrid or New York, where some compatriot will view your super-car in ruins, and your Tibia likewise, with such charming unconcern.

They ask me a lot about authors and pictures, and about how authors feel about pictures. They don't say so much about how picture-makers feel about authors. Perhaps that's understood.

There is no place in the world where so many unknown famous authors are earning fabulous sums as in Hollywood today. There's a lot of to-do about what becomes of the story that was made into a picture. I've always advocated for authors the same point of view that the butcher has when he sells you a piece of meat—there's no follow-up. He doesn't particularly care if you boil it, or roast it or hack it into bits and give it to the cat, raw. It's just a piece of stock he's disposed of at a satisfactory price.

The next question is: How do I like acting?

I like it fine. I hope the public will like it, too, because then I will have an excuse to do more acting.

It's such a nice, convivial job, especially after a lifetime of writing. Outside of Dillinger, I can't think of anyone in the world so lonely as an author.

I keep on enjoying the climate so much that I'm ashamed to speak of it. Weather is our prize cliché in Southern California. I marvel at the way the boosters keep on telling about its being the finest winter resort in the nation when all the time it's the finest summer resort I've ever been in.

If I had time away from writing and picture work I'd promote a get-together between Southern California and Florida. We'd swap tourist seasons with 'em—about some of these people here over there in winter and take over some of their trade in summer. And then we might be able to effect an exchange of courtesies on disasters. One of our earthquakes for one of their A-No. 1 hurricanes, tidal waves or typhoons. We could put the whole thing on a bigger business basis.

Then, in a few lifetimes or so, this Los Angeles out here, which now is just a place where a lot of people are spending the night on the American plan, will become a real city like New York, New Orleans, San Francisco and the rest of the places that you can't forget.

Father Bialdyga's Silver Jubilee

Phoenix, Fabulous Bird, Said to Live in Arabia

The phoenix was a fabulous bird of which Herodotus gives the following account in that part of his work which treats on Egypt:

"The phoenix is another sacred bird, which I have never seen except in Egypt. He rarely appears in Egypt; only once in 500 years, immediately after the death of his father, as the Heliopolitans affirm.

"If the painters describe him truly, his feathers represent a mixture of crimson and gold; and he resembles the eagle in outline and size. They affirm that he contrives the following thing, which to me is not credible.

"They say that he comes from Arabia, and bringing the body of his father enclosed in myrrh, buries him in the temple of the sun, and that he brings him in the following manner:

"First he molds as great a quantity of myrrh into the shape of an egg as he is well able to carry; and, after having tied the weight, he hollows out the egg and puts his parent into it, and stops up with some more myrrh the hole through which he had introduced the body, so that the weight is the same as before; he then carries the whole mass to the temple of the sun in Egypt. Such is the account they give of the phoenix."

The popular version is that, on arriving at the age of five hundred years, the phoenix built a funeral pile of wood and aromatic gums, and lighting it by the fanning of his wings, was consumed to ashes, out of which arose a new phoenix.

Lloyd's Formed in London

Lloyd's is an organization of underwriters formed in London in the seventeenth century, but not incorporated until that was done by act of parliament in 1871.

The organization takes its name from that of Edward Lloyd, who kept a coffee house in Tower street, London, about 250 years ago. In his place underwriters met to transact their business. It became their headquarters and there they remained until 1774, when they moved to the Royal Exchange where they have been ever since.

Lloyd's does not undertake insurance business as a corporation. The business is conducted by member firms under their own account, but in accordance with the rules of the society, which thus compares to the stock exchanges and similarly regulated market places.

Lloyd's is also an organization for the collection and distribution of maritime intelligence, and this is published in Lloyd's List. The List, founded in 1696 as Lloyd's News, is with one exception the oldest current newspaper in Europe. The corporation also publishes various works for the benefit of members, shippers and the business world in general.

Refrigerator Invented

One of the first refrigeration machines was invented by Dr. John Gorrie, who obtained his patent in May, 1851, for a mechanical refrigeration machine, in which the air was compressed in a cylinder and delivered to a chamber which was immersed in the cooling water. Gorrie was a native of South Carolina but settled in Apalachicola, Fla. His interest in the matter arose from his vision of the artificial cooling of rooms for the comfort of patients, and his first machine, made in 1844, was designed for air cooling. An ice-making machine of the vapor compression type was invented by Jacob Perkins in 1834, a liquid being employed that could be alternately liquefied and vaporized.

Planets of Special Kind

Planets may be defined as a special kind of stars which revolve around the sun in a definite path or orbit. Besides the eight major planets, which include the earth, there are also a large number of minor or secondary planets which revolve around the major planets. The stars shine with a light of their own while the planets are luminous.

Gehrig Ready To Be Yanks' Hero As The Babe Announces He'll Quit

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

With Babe Ruth playing his last big season—according to his own word—Big Lou Gehrig appears ready to become the Yankees' slugging hero instead of merely the Babe's understudy.

For the last couple of days Gehrig has been playing with a chipped bone in the big toe of his right foot but it hasn't interfered with his socking the ball or his iron man streak of over 1,400 consecutive games. He closed his 14th homer of the season yesterday to bring the Yanks the first of two victories over Cleveland that gave them a half-game margin over the Tigers.

A Hit in Time

With the score tied in the ninth, Lou rode the ball out of the park to gain a 3-2 Yankee victory and give Lefty Gomez his 12th mound victory. Red Ruffing followed that up with a one-out hit to win the second game 3-0, driving in on one run himself and letting only two runners reach first.

The Yanks needed both decisions to stay on top as Mickey Cochrane's Detroit club came through with a 13-10 victory over Washington in an eleven inning battle.

Boston's Red Sox moved into fourth place ahead of Cleveland by slugging out 18 hits and a 14 to 9 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The St. Louis Browns, hitting almost as hard, rocked the Athletics 11 to 2 despite Bob Johnson's 20th circuit drive.

Giants Bolster Lead

New York's other pennant contender, the Giants, added a full game to their lead over the Cubs by slugging the third-place Cubs down, 12 to 7. Two homers by Mel Ott featured an 18 hit assault on four Cub pitchers.

The Brooklyn Dodgers battered out a 9 to 5 decision over the second-place Cardinals as Van Mungia, although touched up freely, won his eleventh game of the year. The loss left the Cards five full games behind New York.

After a day in the second division, Pittsburgh's Pirates returned to fourth place with a 6 to 5 decision over Boston, gained when Manager Pie Traynor scored in the ninth on Finky Whitney's error. Down toward the cellar, Philadelphia and Cincinnati split a doubleheader. The Reds staved off a late rally to win the opener 6-4 but yielded 15-10 in the second slugging match which produced a total of 34 hits.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)

Oakland, Calif.—Pietro Georgi, 173, Buffalo, N. Y., outpointed Domingo Valin, 176 (10).

Freeman Kayos Walsh at Woodcliff, Belloise Fails to Draw Like Hayes

Probably the most important news about the boxing show at Woodcliff Park, Poughkeepsie, Wednesday, is that concerning Bill Freeman's knockout victory over Tommy Walsh, former National Guard favorite, in 2:25 of the second round.

Freeman, who held the heavyweight championship of the Guard twice, himself, scored Walsh three times with hard right hand jolts to the button, and laid him away with another that rendered the New York or unconsious for five minutes after he went to his corner with the aid of Referee Bill Singer and his seconds.

Carl J. "Doc" Stender, who is managing Freeman, said the kayo victory earned the negro puncher a boat in Connecticut that was a neat profit to him. Stender was very much impressed with Freeman, saying he expected the lucky black man to do big things in his comeback after a long period of inactivity and his losing battle in Kingston with Ed Kora-lak.

Joe Vondick, the Saugerties favorite on the card, dropped a decision to Al Levinaky, Poughkeepsie light-heavyweight.

The star bout, showing Mike Belloise, conquerer of Percy Hayes, against Johnny Erickson, the "Swedish Wop" brought out plenty of class on the part of Belloise, who is a clever boxer with an educated left and plenty of stinging punching power.

Belloise cuffed Erickson, a good tough little fighter, all over the place from start to finish, handily earning the votes of Judge John J. Finerty and Sam Jacobson of Kingston.

Although the presence of Belloise on the Woodcliff card was expected to pack the open air punch bowl, the attendance was not an exception, which saw Percy Hayes from Bronx Torres at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium last Friday.

House of David Shuts Out Schryver All Stars by 11-0

Living up to advance notions that heralded them as the best House of David team ever organized, Lou Murphy's bewhiskered diamond performers shut out the Schryver All Stars, 11-0, Wednesday evening at the Kingston Fair Grounds by virtue of Moose Swasey's three-hit pitching and some prolific slugging on the part of his teammates who collected 12 hits off the delivery of Ted Fraleigh and Bill Thomas.

The prize hitting performance of the game was turned in by Ragnow, catcher for the House, who sent out a double and four singles in a row and scored four runs. Beasley and Swasey each made a brace of singles. While the bearded batters were getting to Fraleigh and Thomas for their collection of blows, Swasey held the Schryvers under his thumb striking out six of them. Only one runner reached third base.

Two unearned runs in the second inning started the Davids on their parade. In the fourth chukker Stravecos got a complimentary homer when the ball was lost in the grass. Two real smashes good for the circuit, though, were registered by Forman and Getz, both clouts going over the left field fence.

Forman's four baser with two men on marked the end of Ted Fraleigh with the Lumbermen behind 4-0. Bill Thomas relieved him and was touched for four hits and three runs. Homers by Stravecos and Getz together with singles by Beasley and Ragnow gave the House four runs in the fourth inning after a wild pitch by Fraleigh allowed two runners to cross home plate in the second stanza.

A single by Ragnow in the sixth, a hit batsman and Forman's homer accounted for three more. Three hits in a row by Beasley, Ragnow and Stravecos ended the scoring with two more in the seventh.

Schryvers came closest to scoring in the second inning when Tiano went to first on an error, advanced on Knight's bunt and reached third on an infield out but stayed there when Joe Hoffman failed to end the inning.

Charley Lay featured with several nice catches for the Lumbermen and Stravecos turned in a neat performance around second for the Davids, handling 16 chances without an error.

THE Spotlight BY GRANTLAND RICE

California Speaks.

What are you after, speed? Look to the sons of mine. Sons of the western breed—holding the battle line; Stamina—power—skill?—Give them the open track. By surf, and vale and bill—they swing to the next attack.

Close to the soil and sun—out where the sea winds fly. Here is the answer spun, wrung from the sod and sky— Called to the open loam, out where the strong sun falls, Where there is space to roam, free from the city walls.

Space in the golden light—out where the west winds blow, Tanned and fit for the fight—ready to run or row. Born for a game to play—trained for a testing age. Give us the right of way—Sport is our heritage!

Blood of my blood, they wait under my guarding wings. Ready to face all fate, wearing the crowns of kings; Stamina—power—speed—look to the sons of mine, Sons of the western breed—holding the battle line!

The New Baer.

"What's all this," I asked Jack Dempsey, "about the new Baer—no more wine—no more women—no more song—while he remains champion?" "Come along with me," Jack said, "and I'll show you."

At that time Max was throwing a big party—but the main guests were his mother and father—with Buddy Baer at his right hand—which is a pretty good right hand to travel with.

I put the same query to Baer. "You are two-thirds right," he said. "Wine and Women are out—but Buddy and I are just getting ready to sing. You can't cut out everything, you know."

The party broke up at midnight and the strongest drink Max had taken was a glass of water.

"I've got a lot of other places to visit," he said—"friends around I promised to see. Come along."

The idea seemed to be that Max, away from the parental influence of Mommy and Papa Baer, would be the old Max.

The idea blew up promptly. Max sang and danced until after three, but his strongest drink remained water—with no particular attention paid to any lady he happened to meet.

"I mean all this," he said. "When you are champion it is something different. I am not going to bring any shame to the crown Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney wore. I've made my share of mistakes, but from now on I am going to take care of myself. That doesn't mean I am going to quit singing, dancing—even clowning—when I want to. I couldn't change that part of myself if I worked on it for a dozen generations. I'm still going to have a good time. I'm not going to hide away in a desert or lock myself up in a room. But the wild life is over. While I'm champion, anyway."

"You'll be champion a long time, if you mean that," I said. "When will you be ready to fight again?"

"Just as soon as they can dig up an opponent who will help make the show," Max said.

"I'll be ready next time—whenever they want to make it—against anybody they pick."

Baer's Angle on the Ankle.

"In what round do you think Carners hurt his ankle?" I asked him. "I would say in the tenth round," Baer answered. "The big boy was stepping around fast enough until he was dropped in the tenth. He was just as fast in the middle rounds as he was at the start of the fight. It wasn't so much that ankle—it was dropping the left guard after leading that led to trouble."

Max Baer, as champion, is handling himself in a different way from Max Baer, as challenger. He is still the same happy-go-lucky carefree kid, but you can see the old toga of the championship has given him a responsibility he never felt before.

When you can bounce from one dizzy party to another without taking a drink, as Baer did, you must mean it.

"I'll be in better shape for that golf game Thursday than I was when we played after the Schmeling fight," he said. "Wait and see."

The Helen Wills Injury.

Any doubt about the injury Mrs. Helen Wills Moody suffered a year ago at Forest Hills can be thrown out.

Ten months later, on her way through New York, she was still suffering and still unable to swing a racket.

The injury was a fracture of the fifth vertebra, and while it is improving there is still a chance she may never play again.

"I told you a year ago," Mrs. Moody said, "that I would never give up competitive tennis as long as I could play. I still mean what I said. I'm coming back to the game just as soon as my back is cured—and I hope that will be no longer than a year away. I am hoping a complete rest and a long one will fix me up. As it is now, I can't make any sort of quick start or a quick turn without considerable pain."

For the past few months Mrs. Moody has been forced to sleep with her head under the mattress. She has also been under the care of a masseur.

After her defeat to Helen Jacobs last summer there was more than a little criticism for quitting under fire.

But an injury, which lasts ten months, which still causes constant pain, is no minor matter. It is still a matter of doubt whether Mrs. Moody will ever be able to play competitive tennis again, although she feels fairly certain she will be ready to start within a year.

MEGATTA CREWS LEFT ENGLAND ON SUNDAY

Highland, June 20.—The crews all departed on Sunday morning. There were 26 in the Washington crew staying at the home of Mrs. Frank Palmer on Washington avenue. At the Elms were the three Syracuse crews with the Penn Varsity. When the Freshmen arrived they were quartered at Millar and Rutgers at the Elms place on the North road, but all took meals at the Elms, where 110 were fed. The Elms had applications for more than they could accommodate and following the races between 400 and 500 persons gathered there, all friends of the contestants, between 3 p. m. and 1 a. m.

There were 25 State Troopers stationed on this side of the river, many of them at the west end of the vehicular bridge, but only one arrest was made, and that for drunken driving.

The winning status went of the Mississippi river show the greatest number of miles over females.

Gardeners Trim Herzog-Mohawks Van Buren Stars on Mound, 5-3

The Crystal Gardeners chalked up a second game between the Herzog-Mohawks 5-3 victory over the Herzog-Mohawks last Wednesday evening at the Athletic Field in the Industrial Base.

ball League which featured a homer by C. Jansen of the victors, and the pitching of Dewey Van Buren, who held the H-M. combination to four hits, two of which went to Al Flanagan the catcher. Van Buren struck out 13 batters.

In the first inning Welsh of the Gardeners got on by an error and C. Jansen hit an easy one, that should have been a putout, to left field by Joey Meyers, former boxer, slipped in going after the ball and before he could return the pill Jansen was home, getting credit for a circuit clout.

The Herzog-Mohawks put one across in the third. Flanagan was hit by Van Buren and advanced when Van Buren walked D. Hornbeck. Flanagan scored as D. McElrath missed a grounder.

The fifth brought another tally for the Crystal. A Jansen singled to left, stole second and scored on L. Slicker's single.

Both clubs scored in the seventh, each making two runs. Ellsworth of the Gardeners started with a walk and Van Buren was safe on a fielder's choice. These two scored on L. Slicker's second hit of the game.

Flanagan singled for the Herzog-Mohawk combine. D. Hornbeck doubled. A Jansen hit a two baser, scoring Flanagan and Hornbeck.

Market Fair to Start At Woodstock June 23

Articles Will Offer Paintings and Handwork at Rejuvenation of Weekly Catskill Mountain Bazaar Near Village Green.

Woodstock, June 21.—Woodstock's brightest spot of color, the annual Market Fair, will resume Saturday morning for the summer, from 9 a. m. until well after 1 o'clock. Mrs. William Terwilliger and Mrs. Cecil Chester, though unable to commit themselves definitely upon the number of tables to be occupied at the opening fair, state that it is thought the full quota may be expected.

Each year Market Fair attracts many persons from all over the Catskill region, because the colorful array of objects of art offered by the artists to the public range from inexpensive utility items to pieces of creative work at tempting prices. The actual success of this community enterprise rests upon the fact that proceeds thereon by the Market Fair Association are turned over to the Women's Club and similar organizations for winter relief work.

The first 1934 Market Fair will be held in the area adjoining the Old Woodstock Inn, which space has been granted the association by the present inn owners, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Locke.

The Market Fair and the Woodstock Artists Association exhibit at the art gallery are expected to draw many early visitors. Market Fair is held every Saturday.

PICTURES AIRPLANES WITHOUT WINGS OR SCREW PROPELLERS

Berkeley, Calif., June 21 (AP)—Airplanes having neither wings nor screw propellers were pictured today to the American Association, Society of Mechanical Engineers, as the possible aerial craft of tomorrow, by F. K. Kirksten, professor of aeronautical engineering at the University of Washington.

This prospect, the aeronautical section of the American Association for the advancement of science was told, is supported by principles of air mechanics already developed in Germany, France and the United States, and is of proven practical value.

Professor Kirksten outlined the essential feature of this new type aircraft as resembling nothing so much as the time-tested ferry boat propelled with paddle wheels.

ZENA

Zena, June 21.—On Friday evening the school children of district No. 1 had their annual closing party. Vacation days are here.

Thursday was Flag Day and the programs were very patriotic. In the morning the children had a track meet, and many races, contests, and games were held and there were many winners. Merit ribbons were presented by Miss Florence Hill, their teacher. In the evening prizes were presented to those boys and girls who had the highest number of points to their credit. A prize was also presented to Edward H. Heng, who had attended school the whole term without missing a day. There were songs and recitations. Also a little sketch by the tiny folk and a pantomime by the elder classes. Following the programs refreshments were served, fruit punch and cake, and a social hour were enjoyed by all.

Sunday school and services in the Reformed Church were well attended and Mr. Heidenreich preached an excellent sermon on "Loyalty." Miss Helen Long was at the organ.

On Sunday many Zena folk took the opportunity to enjoy the all-day sail down the Hudson to review the fleet. Those on the sail were: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Caranright, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harcourt and William, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lynch, the Misses Florence Hill, Lillian Van Eiten, Edith Heidinger, Palmer Caranright and Addison Short. The Misses Eva Fellows and Carrie and Nellie Caranright joined the party at Newburgh. There were also Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. A. Simmons and guests, Misses Julia and Anna Klementis, Alice and Edna Holmzer, Albert Holmzer, Julius Tomassoy and Fred Thalaz, Jr.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harcourt entertained five friends to help celebrate Mrs. Harcourt's birthday. At 12 midnight congratulations were in order after which guests departed for their homes after a pleasant evening playing cards.

Tuesday evening the Reformed Church held a strawberry festival. There was a good attendance and all thoroughly enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Mrs. Van Eiten is now able to sit up in bed a few minutes each day. Mrs. Heidenreich, who is under the care of Dr. Lambert, is feeling much better.

Mrs. Margaret Sperry and daughter are occupying the Varney cottage. "Palamos." Four young musicians, D. Tavelli, and friends, are occupying the other Varney cottage, "Woodneck."
